Important Notice:

Additional rehearsals may be announced at the discretion of the leaders/captains. These are called "sectionals" and do not appear on the master calendar. Sectionals are impromptu, and are usually only called a day or two in advance. If sectionals are announced, it means that the team needs additional practice time on their routine, along with hands-on tutoring. It is strongly recommended that your daughter attend the sectionals, although these are optional. When sectionals are announced, it is usually during class, rehearsals or by text message. Sectionals may or many not take place on campus. Off campus sectionals are usually held at a local park. Locations are announced by the leaders/captains.

It is your responsibility to check the online calendar at least weekly. No schedule is sacred and is subject to change. For Color Guard (other than the sectionals) all the dates and times for our practices, rehearsals, football game performances and competitions will be posted to the calendar on the music web site at www.thhsmusic.com.
